

SOPHIE'S WORLD

Sophie Maletsky bio (150 words)

Sophie Maletsky is a renowned children's entertainer specializing in parties, crafts and games. Raised in a very talented family of artists and educators, Sophie brings creativity, imagination and do-it-yourself enthusiasm to every adventure. She began her entertainment career at the age of six in her family's puppet theater, then in her church's clown ministry. Sophie has thrilled audiences in high school and college theatre, and then acted Off Broadway and in television and film.

After relocating to San Francisco, Sophie started her children's party business that blossomed into Sophie's World with a prolific YouTube channel and sophie-world.com presence. Sophie's mission is to connect kids and adults through creativity. "I believe we need to start small, but effect large. I believe in hugs, laughter, and creating together with our children." Sophie is the star of the prolific Sophie's World, both on YouTube and on the web, the author of Sticky Fingers, DIY Duct Tape Projects and a highly rated instructor on curious.com.
